This workshop is for interpreters who are preparing to take the case studies portion of the CASLI Generalist Knowledge Exam.

CASLI is the Center for Assessment of Sign Language Interpretation.

Workshop Description

The new CASLI Knowledge Exam has two parts. One of those parts consists of case studies. In this workshop, participants will be given hypothetical interpreting scenarios and be asked to discuss a given set of responses or actions. The scenarios in each case study will be presented as an evolving situation. Drawing on their experience, participants will determine appropriate courses of action at each step in the process. These discussions are designed to assist participants in preparing for the Ethics & Cultural Responsiveness portion of the CASLI Generalist Knowledge Exam. To further help you prepare for the exam, which will be partially presented in American Sign Language (ASL), this workshop will be conducted in ASL each time it is offered. No voice interpretation will be provided.

Presenter

Pam King, M.A. Ed., CI and CT: With more than 35 years of experience as an interpreter, with most of that time spent as an independent contractor interpreting in the community, Pam has a wealth of knowledge to share. She works for DSDHH where her primary responsibility is interpreter development.
